A CONSIGNMENT OF ROMAN IMPERIAL COINS

From the Collection of FREDERICK S. KNOBLOCH

In November, 1975 we were privileged to sell an excellent group of Roman Republican coins from the Knobloch Collection. The success of that sale is a matter of public record.

It is therefore an especial pleasure to be able to include in this auction sale many fine and rare Roman Imperial coins from Frederick S. Knobloch. The consignment gives the serious collector extraordinary opportunities to acquire pieces in choice condition as well as of high rarity. The Knobloch provenance only adds to the attraction of the offering.

Additionally, there are included a number of desirable Byzantine and Medieval coins from the Knobloch Collection. These pieces, together with the Roman coins that precede them, are indicative of the fine taste and sense of history of Mr. Knobloch.

NUMISMATIC LITERATURE

The following books, lots numbered 1958 to 1963, share two important characteristics. First, they are all essential references for the coinage of the Roman Republic and Empire. Secondly, and of equal importance, they are all in virtually mint condition and, consequently, are worthy additions to the library of any serious collector of Roman coins.
